MONAR LAW FIRST ENGLISH PREMIER BORN IN CANADA

Becomes Prime Minister and First Lord of the Treasury

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Oct. 23.—Andrew Bonar Law today, in the traditional phrase of the court circle, "kissed hands upon his appointment as prime minister and first lord of the treasury," and thus becomes England's first Canadian born premier.

Today was devoted to the formalities necessary in a monarchial country to a change in the government.

The king in the morning gave an audience to, and took formal leave of the outgoing prime minister, Mr. Lloyd George. Then came the Unionists meeting in the afternoon when Mr. Bonar Law was unanimously elected leader of the party. This was followed by a large audience at Buckingham Palace when Mr. Bonar Law at the king's invitation undertook to form a new administration.

The king will hold a privy council probably Wednesday if he prime minister has by then completed his ministry for the wearing in of the new ministers. The king on the advice of the prime minister will proclaim the dissolution of parliament Thursday and call for new elections to be held November 15.

Mr. Bonar Law is understood to have his cabinet list almost completed and it is expected the composition of the ministry will be announced tomorrow. He has made it clear that if he finds his health unequal to the task he shall be allowed to step aside.

The situation is unique in that the election annals is as much as only three weeks to the election of the new ministry. Each side appears to be waiting on the other.

Mr. Lloyd George's opponents are making merry with the suggestion that the sword he announced himself as brandishing when he left London Sunday must have been lost somewhere on the way to Leeds.

Coalition Real Question.
The only real question before the electorate is whether the coalition government is a coalition. But that cannot properly be described as an election plank because except in the quite anticipated result of a tremendous landslide in favor of one particular party it is almost certain that no party will be returned strong enough to form a government without the co-operation of some other party.

Mr. Bonar Law confirms that Ireland is an agreed question and the further intimated clearly and frankly at the leaders' meeting today that tariff reform or protection would not form an item of his policy. And since Mr. Lloyd George has announced himself as a free trader this question cannot come to the front, as both the liberal and labor parties are in favor of free trade. The prime minister promises to define his policy in his coming speech at Glasgow, but judging from his remarks today it will not be of an eventful character.

Previous to the breakdown of his health Mr. Bonar Law was a close friend of Mr. Lloyd George and was identified with the coalition policy it is therefore practically impossible that he can in any important measure reverse this policy. Thus unless Mr. Lloyd George should take a strong turn in his policy, there will be little difference between the policies of the two men.

The contest seems likely to be one of personalities of men rather than measures so far as these two parties are concerned.

LOWER FREIGHT RATES DEMANDED WALLACE SAYS

Secretary Addresses Knife and Fork Club at Kansas City

(By The Associated Press)
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 23.—Lower freight rates and unhindered transportation are demanded by the farmers, Henry C. Wallace, secretary of agriculture declared in an address tonight before the Knife and Fork Club. Tomorrow he begins a three day Republican campaign speaking tour in Kansas with an address at Hutchinson.

Freight rates on agricultural products should be decreased, Secretary Wallace said, because they are too high with relation to the prices farmers get. Transportation is a part of production, so far as agriculture is concerned, he declared. "The farmer pays the freight. He does not want the railroads to reduce freight rates so low that they cannot furnish efficient service. Service is important to the farmer, but the freight rates are now too high. The farmers want the railroad people to cut down their operating costs, to insist upon a fair day's work for a fair wage to move their freight cheaper and thus be able to cut down rates."

Declaring that many growers of perishable products have gone bankrupt because they could not move their crops and that grain growers and livestock producers have lost "millions upon millions of dollars" in the last six months because railroad owners and railroad workers could not agree, the secretary said:

"Some way must be found to break monopolies of both capital and labor and keep them at work."

GRAND JURY STARTS PROBE IN CHICAGO

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Investigation by a grand jury of an alleged conspiracy of perjury was opened today with two witnesses appearing before the inquisitorial body. They are said to have testified that they had been bribed to give perjured testimony in the trial of Thomas J. Walsh, labor leader, for the murder of Adolph George, Jr., Assistant State's Attorney.

Stewart announced that he would seek indictments for about ten persons, whom he said, included lawyers, politicians and labor leaders.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY RESUMES INVESTIGATION

Names Forty Eight Persons in an Indictment for Murder

(By The Associated Press)
MARION, Ill., Oct. 23.—The special grand jury, which today resumed its investigation of the Herlin mine killings after a month's recess this afternoon returned an indictment for murder, naming 48 persons and announced it had completed its work, and was adjourning. This makes 434 persons the grand jury has indicted in connection with the rioting in which 23 men were killed.

The men indicted today were charged with the death of Ignace Kubinski, who died since the grand jury took a temporary adjournment 30 days ago. Only a few witnesses were heard today and they are said to have told of wounds inflicted on Kubinski and which are said to have resulted in his death.

Circuit Judge Hartwell before whom the indictment was returned expressed the opinion that the true bill is illegal because it was returned at the September term of court by a grand jury impaneled by the July term court. State's Attorney Duty expressed an opposite opinion and stated he would appeal to the state supreme court if the indictments were declared illegal by the lower court.

In the total of 434 indictments, 77 individuals persons are named some of the men having as high as nine indictments, charging murder, rioting and assault facting them. Twenty one individuals are charged only with rioting and assault, leaving 56 indicted for murder. Of the total number of indictments 215 are for murder, 103 for assault and 116 for rioting.

The legality of the final 48 indictments returned today may not be decided until next year, it was stated tonight because it was said there probably would not be an opportunity to test the jurisdiction until the indictments voted today are called for trial which is not expected before 1923.

All except a half dozen of the indicted men either have been arrested or surrendered voluntarily. The missing men are said to be unidentified or have fled the county.

The first trial is scheduled to begin Nov. 8, when 48 men charged with the murder of one non-union worker are to be tried.

A. F. of L. Issued Statement Last Night

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The political campaign committee of the American Federation of Labor in a statement tonight urged voters in the forthcoming elections to take a stand against "reaction of congress."

"The statement embodied an appeal for a breaking down of the 'somewhat popular impression' that elections only in presidential years were important and to regard every election as having direct bearing on whether the nation in the future would have congresses favorable to progress or whether reaction should govern."

"Consider the congress as it has been," the statement continued, "not a single constructive measure has been made into law. On the contrary, one reactionary proposal after another has been brought forward."

The statement enumerated the "issues" in the coming elections as, among others, taxation, soldier bonus, merchant marine legislation amendment of the Esch-Cummins law, immigration, federal police powers, unemployment, prosecution of alleged war grafters and profiteers, and general labor policies.

CHARLES PONZI CONDUCTS HIS CASE IN COURT

Get Rich Quick Operator is Brought Into Court by State

(By The Associated Press)
BOSTON, Oct. 23.—Charles Ponzi, whose scheme of quick riches for all investors in international postal reply coupons two years ago resulted in a federal sentence for using the mails to defraud became a defendant in superior court today on indictment alleging larceny and conspiracy.

Ponzi came into court with an armful of books and papers and announced he would conduct his own case. He was assigned a table within the bar enclosure, but at his side was Sheriff Earl D. Blake, of Plymouth county. Ponzi, who is serving his five year federal sentence at the Plymouth jail will spend each night in his cell. The trial is expected to last several weeks.

Five of the dapper financiers' agents in the sale of the coupons were placed on trial with him, charged with larceny and with being accessories before the fact of larceny.

Ponzi looking considerably older than when two years ago he travelled the streets of Boston in an expensive limousine, presented several motions to Judge Fosdick.

Moving that the indictment be quashed he contended that his trial would constitute double jeopardy, that the offenses alleged were based on substantially the same evidence, facts and circumstances as those upon which he was held in the United States district court and that the indictment to which he pleaded guilty in that court contained allegations substantially the same as those upon which the state now seeks to try him.

A THOUGHT

Wait on the Lord; be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart. Wait, I say, on the Lord.—Psalms 27:14.

We never know for what God is preparing us in his school—for what work on earth, for what work in the hereafter. Our business is to do our work well in the present place, whatever that may be.—Lyman Abbott.

That is an interesting movement that the All-Chicago council of Kiwanis clubs has instituted. The purpose is to do away with the old phrase "blue Monday" and to substitute "cheer Monday." It can be accomplished, for after all, there is a great deal of "psychology" back of this thing of being blue or in a contented and happy frame of mind.

There are no flaws in the record of Charles S. Black as a high grade citizen of Morgan county. All the years of his life have been spent here and there is nothing hidden in his record. He has always been a law abiding citizen himself and is openly in favor of enforcement of all laws. Stability is an outstanding characteristic, and he can safely be entrusted ed with the vast sums of money which annually pass thru the office of the sheriff and collector of this county.

WILL TELL ABOUT THE CONSTITUTION

Jacksonville is fortunate in the coming of Mr. Henry I. Green of Urbana, who will make two addresses here on the proposed new constitution for Illinois. Mr. Green acknowledged one of the most capable lawyers of the state, is a man of forward vision and high ideals. He was prominent throughout the sessions of the constitutional convention, of which he was a member, and is exceedingly well fitted to explain the benefits of the proposed constitution.

He will probably tell Jacksonville people that the constitution as proposed is not an ideal document, but that it is very decidedly in advance of the constitution of 1870. The measure as proposed is of necessity a compromise of different groups of men, representing all parts of the state.

It is unthinkable that the constitution as shaped after many months of deliberation by the chosen representatives of the people would not present ideas in advance of those formulated more than fifty years ago. During that period changes have taken place in the state which the framers of the earlier constitution could not possibly anticipate.

It is indeed a distinction for Jacksonville to have two hospitals on the approved list of the American College of Surgeons. The fact is more notable when it is taken into account that this honor belongs to no other city in Illinois outside Chicago. The local hospitals, built up by the interest and ability of local physicians and surgeons, and nurses and the operation of these are justly accounted among the substantial assets of the city. The fame of these hospitals, the quality of the service rendered, give Jacksonville a good name throughout a wide territory.

"From doughnuts to the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man," continues the president of the American Federation of Labor, "their work, both over there during the war and here during the times of peace, seems to approach the welfare of mankind here and now, rather than to deal altogether with the 'sweet by-and-by.' This work... is just simply service without pretense."

VEHICLE TAX FUND SHOWS INCREASE

Figures relating to the wheel tax were presented by Alderman Rowe, showing that this year 1,112 vehicles have paid the tax by comparison with 937 last year. The police department has secured practically a 100 per cent collection of this tax.

Alderman Harmon reported complaint filed because of smoke from the stack at the Illinois Woman's college and said the matter had been taken up with the authorities there to secure possible relief.

Boils Quit Quick!

S. S. S. Will Prove to You in Your Own Case the "How" and "Why" of its Remarkable Blood-Cleansing Power!

There is a reason for everything that happens. Common-sense kills misery. Common-sense also stops boils! S. S. S. is the common-sense remedy for boils.

Pimples May be Small Boils!
because it is built on reason. Scientific authorities admit its power. S. S. S. builds blood-power, it builds red blood-cells. That is what makes fighting blood. Fighting blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It always wins! It fights pimples! It fights skin eruptions! It builds nerve-power, thinking power, the fight-tested power that whirls a man up into success. It gives women the health, the angelic complexion and the charm that moves the world! These are the reasons that have made S. S. S. today the great blood-cleanser, body-builder, success builder, and it's why results have made tens of joy flow from the souls of thousands! Mr. V. D. Schaaf, 557 15th St., Washington, D. C., writes: "I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S. S. S. I am now completely cured, and it was S. S. S. that did it!" Try it yourself. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The large size bottle is the more economical.

LAST TIME TODAY

Don't fail to see Charles "Buck" Jones & Eileen Percy, in a thrilling picturization of Lincoln J. Carter's stage triumph of twenty years ago.

"The Fast Mail"

This adaptation of Carter's famous play has almost every sensational feat imaginable except airplane stunts. For one not conversant with the original in the palmy days when Carter's mellers were erupting regularly it is impossible to say how closely it adheres to the original, but in order to have the original stick to the stage play would have to travel mighty fast.

The story of the villain who conspires to win a Mississippi steeplechase by foul means and to capture a Southern belle in the same way keeps the spectator breathing fast almost from the first moment. The fast mail train itself appears in the picture only as an incident, but the photoplay travels with enough speed to make one feel one is on a through express all the way.

Moreover, it introduces the world's champion jumping hero. He jumps off his steed in Montana to rescue the heroine. He jumps over hurdles in a steeplechase; he jumps on the fast mail from a speeding handcar and from the locomotive back into an automobile, to show the first leap was not a fluke. He jumps from one Mississippi steamboat on to another, which inhospitably blows up, so that he has to jump into the river.

Instant Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

Two Styles Now

One is almost ready to serve

Quaker Oats comes in two styles now. And both styles excel any other oats you know. Instant Quaker has been perfected by our experts. It cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes—the quickest-cooking oats in the world. And it cooks to perfection.

Both have that super-flavor

The world-wide fame of Quaker Oats is due to a super-flavor. It is flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flavory oats. We get but ten pounds of these delicious flakes from a bushel.

Oat lovers everywhere send here for that flavor. Instant Quaker has that same flavor. It is flaked from the same queen grains. But the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

So Quaker Oats now offer two great advantages. They offer a flavor which no other oats can match. And now in addition, if you wish, oats that cook in five minutes or less.

Get either kind you want. But don't, if you love oats, get less flavory oats than Quaker.

are less by half of what they were a few days ago. Although there has been a good market the surplus is still enormous, and large wastage is feared unless the foreign shipments are curtailed.

BOY SCOUTS GET SOME GOOD ADVICE

Are Handed Out Various Warning When They Attend Church—Peer Tells the Scouts Something Else.

London.—(By the Associated Press.)—It would appear to be the fate of Boy Scouts the world over to have to listen to god advice from their elders. In England the boys take it good humoredly and patiently as all in the day's work.

But recently a group of Scouts must have been perplexed, as well as amused, when the good advice from two speakers did not in the least agree. They had come in to Bedford to attend church. The Vicar, the Rev. A. O. Cheney, addressed them. He warned them against smoking as "a dirty and disgusting habit."

He told them to remember to keep the Sabbath day holy and not to go about "making a noise and disturbing the villagers."

(The boys had marched to church headed by bugle and drums.)

Nor, he said, should anything be done on Sunday which entailed extra work for anyone. (The villagers had agreed to entertain the visiting scouts to tea.) The Vicar said he never entertained anyone on Sundays; people should stay at home on Sunday and help along the activities of the Church.

After the service Lord Amphil got his turn at the boys. He said that smoking had been helpful to some of the greatest men in the world. One of the wisest philosophers used to smoke like a chimney. But, of course, it would not be right for small boys to smoke.

He always entertained his friends on Sunday, he said. He honored God by going to church Sunday morning, but afterward he sometimes did a bit of carpentry. The idea of Sunday, he told the boys, was that it should be a day of rest which meant abstention from ordinary work. Manual labor on Sundays rested him rather more than anything else because during the week, he had to attend a good many meetings in stuffy rooms.

So long as they did not disturb the peace of the villages, they need have no compunctions in urinating on Sunday to "pay a friendly compliment to a new troop."

One of the grownups suggested that the Peer and the Parson should hold a public discussion on the subject, the proceeds to be divided equally between the church and the scouts.

DOUBT AS TO CITY ELECTION DATES

Springfield, Ill.—The doubtful question of when city elections are to be held in 1923, whether in the spring or the fall, is bothering many local politicians over the state. The proposed new Illinois constitution provides that they shall be held in November, along with state and county elections outside of Cook county. The exact date is to be set by the state legislature.

If the constitution is adopted when put to a vote on December 12, many city elections that under the old law would be held in April will go over until next fall. Prospective candidates for mayor and aldermen are wondering whether they should start their campaigns now for an April election or wait until after December 12, to see whether the new basic law will be passed.

Illinois college will be Eureka's opponent in the annual home coming game at Eureka November 11. Illinois defeated Eureka here last year on Illinois field. The Christians are strong this year, having a veteran team. The contest should be a hard fought one.

LIQUOR AND THE BIBLE

(By J. P. Lippincott.)

The article by Mr. W. N. Hairgrove in the interest of opposition to the 18th Amendment has not called forth the protest it deserves. Neither does it receive the attention it deserves for its misconception of the teachings of the Bible.

It is so easy to miss the meaning of scripture. You can find in biblical story many things that would not be tolerated in decent society now. Solomon, for instance with the seven hundred wives and three hundred concubines. But you can also find exalted sentiment, high ideals, and if you note the progressive element you will note that the ideals of life grow higher and broader as history is enacted. You will note, too, that just as our daily press entertains us with an account of murders, thefts, illicit love, forgeries and other things shocking to the moral sense, so the Bible is in constant protest because of the wickedness of that day in high places.

Yet three thousand years ago it was written: "Who hath you? Who hath sorrow? Who hath contention? Who hath weeping? Who hath wounds without cause? Who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine. Look not thou up in the wine when it is red, when it giveth colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. At the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder."

Jesus said: "And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in Me, it is better for him that a millstone be hanged about his neck and he were cast into the sea."

He also said: "The first of all Commandments is, Hear O Israel; the Lord our God is one Lord; and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength; this is the first Commandment. And the second is like, namely this, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

Paul, who is generally conceded to have been a man of great ability, caught the idea when he was interrogated as to the propriety of eating meat that had been offered to idols. He intimated that offering it to idols did not affect the meat any. But there was a nobler aspect and he exclaimed: "If meat makes my brother to offend I will eat no meat while the world stand, lest I make my brother to offend." He had accepted the challenge of Cain when he guiltily asked: "Am I my brother's keeper?"

This is a meager suggestion of a rich theme. A moment's reflection will bring to mind the fact that Jewish national life was a democracy. God was the nation's Ruler and Head. Loyalty to Him and His Commandments was the highest reach of citizenship.

In a democracy under constitutional government, the consent of the governed is the supreme authority. Every citizen has a right of securing a license to practice, takes an oath to support the constitution.

Those lawyers who are lending their name and influence to defeat the 18th Amendment in its operation are very far from teaching the ideal of good citizenship that Jesus taught. If some could be named who have deliberately, and secretly, conspired at the manufacture of whiskey, would they not stand ashamed in comparison with the loyalty of Paul?

Can the Bible be honestly cited as upholding such a course, or any course tending to debauchery?

If lawyers so teach what need we of Lenin to teach the Bolshevik way?

In answer to the assertions that legislation should not be in advance of public sentiment I venture the remark that the Ten Commandments are said to have been proclaimed about four thousand years ago. The claim that this is a Christian nation implies that the Ten Commandments are obligatory as a condition of loyalty. More people today violate the Ten Commandments than violate the Eighteenth Amendment of our national Constitution. Shall we abolish the Ten Commandments on the theory that they are not supported by public sentiment?

I think history will not repeat itself. The Bible, in my youth, was cited as upholding slavery. The abolition of slavery was fought desperately. You could not get many votes in favor of re-establishing slavery now. I very strongly suspect that the 18th Amendment has come to stay. If it does I know society will be the better for it.

VIKING QUEEN BURIED WITH FULL HOUSEHOLD EQUIPMENT

London.—By the A. P.—Professor Brogger, a Norwegian archaeologist and lecturer, has announced an important find in southern Norway which throws a new light on the art of Norway and Europe during the ninth century.

The find is the grave of a Viking queen, believed to have been one of those women who led the Vikings against their enemies. In the tomb of the queen was unearthed a Viking ship in almost perfect condition. The bodies of the queen and her servant were within a special burial chamber in the ship, and supplied with the most complete equipment for the future life yet known in Northern Scandinavia. This included a four-wheeled wagon, four sledges, beds, looms, buckets and a complete kitchen together with 14 horses, four dogs, and two oxen.

SMALL BOYS LIVE LIKE WILD MEN

Are Captured by Sheriff in Southern Illinois—Were Like Jungle Animals When Captured.

CAIRO, Ill.—Two small boys, about 8 and 10 years old are feeling the touch of civilization after spending the greater part of their lives in the manner of prehistoric cave men.

They were caught after a running and scratching battle by a sheriff's posse which trailed them into the forests and hills of Pulaski county, near here. Both surrendered only after exhausting their infant strength in a biting and scratching conflict with the men.

That the boys were existing in a primitive manner was first discovered by county authorities when a woman, living in the northern part of the county, asked for aid for her father who, she said, was suffering from tuberculosis.

The boys ran away when she went into the forests for her father and took him to her home, she said. They were grandsons of the sick man, she told the sheriff.

Several attempts were made by the sheriff to find the place described as the abode of the two children but because of the wildness of the country, these attempts failed. The place finally was located only after a systematic combing of the forests.

When the posse arrived the boys fled deeper into the woods, climbing through the thick underbrush and into trees with surprising agility, the sheriff said. The posse then surrounded the hut and waited until night when the two lads returned and were seized.

Fighting like wild animals, they dug their teeth, finger and toe nails, which were like long claws, into the flesh of the sheriff and his deputies. One got away and climbed a tree like a monkey. In trying to swing to another tree, he fell and was recaptured.

How long the lads have lived in the woods officials do not know. They have grown like jungle animals, without education or knowledge of anything outside their hills and forests. They lived in a little hut made of boxes and subsisted on wild roots and forest animals.

They were dressed in rags, the older one wearing a pair of tattered overalls and the other having but a torn coat which hung in strips from his shoulders almost to his knees. They were unable to tell their names and had difficulty in talking even the most rudimentary terms.

Women Should Know how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps at This Trying Period

Sheboygan, Wisconsin.—"I was run down, tired and nervous. I could not even do my own housework, could not sleep at night and all kinds of queer thoughts would come to me. ## Gains 15 Pounds and Feels Like a Boy Again

"I gained fifteen pounds on four bottles of Tanlac and I feel like a brand new man," recently declared Gustav Fink, 2850 N. Clark St., Chicago, well-known concrete prismatic light specialist, with the American 3-Way Prism Co.

"Not only that," said he, "I have so much energy and reserve strength now that it carried me over many a rush job when we have to work under pressure."

"The more I think about how Tanlac built me up, the more I consider myself blessed. Why, I had indigestion so bad that I was simply miserable from the gas, bloating and heartburn, and sometimes I had such headaches, dizzy spells and pains in my back that I actually suffered torture. My nerves were 'shot to pieces' and at night I would roll and toss for hours before I could coax a little sleep. I had practically no appetite and my activity and 'pep' was gradually slipping away."

"But everything is different now, and I'm a well man in every way. I have a regular boy's appetite, my nerves are like steel, I sleep fine every night and feel jolly and cheerful all the time. Tanlac is certainly a grand medicine."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. (adv.)

LABOR LEADER FINDS GERMANY PRODUCTIVE

No Unemployed in that Country—People Have So Far Escaped the War Miseries.

LONDON—Thomas Kennedy, labor member of Parliament, visited Germany recently to learn something of the conditions of the working classes there. He tells in Justice what most impressed him, and he makes some interesting comparisons between German and British workers.

"There are no unemployed in Germany," Mr. Kennedy writes. "There are gloomy forebodings of what the next six months may bring to the German workers, but so far the German people have escaped the war miseries and uncertainties that are out here. The differences and divisions between skilled and unskilled workers are much less pronounced in Germany than in Britain. At the time of my visit, when the rate of exchange was anything between 4,000 and 6,000 marks to the pound, the average wage was in the neighborhood of 40 marks an hour."

"It would be foolish of course, to suggest that there is no poverty in Germany. I was told by those who are in touch with the life of the German worker that the general standard of comfort is lower today than anything experienced by the present generation of German workers. But even so, although I have visited some of the poorest parts of Berlin, I saw nothing so sordid as the poverty and squalor of the poorest districts of Glasgow, Edinburgh, Leeds or London."

"The republic is possessed of enormous material wealth and intellectual resources which have not been destroyed by military defeat. On the contrary, it may soon be apparent that military defeat has not awakened new powers by ridding the life of the German people of the domination of the militaristic and imperial castes."

"The most casual observer could hardly fail to be impressed by the appearance of the country's solid strength in material resources and productive power. In agriculture and forestry the territory through which I traveled is the richest and most highly developed I have ever seen."

"Harvest operations were in full swing, and even here the contrast between German and British methods was most striking."

"In the industrial centers there was no indication of depression or exhaustion; smoking factory chimneys and blazing furnaces pointed in an exactly opposite direction."

ARTISTS COURSE AT I. W. C. COMMENCES

Three Artists of Unusual Ability Appeared in Initial Number of Artists Course Series Monday Night at Woman's College.

A very full house greeted the three ladies who yesterday evening ushered in the Artists' Course for the season of 1922-23 at the Woman's College. The lion's share of the program was given to Mrs. Alma Hays Reed, who was supported by her accompanist and a harpist.

Mrs. Reed showed her fitness for her work by presenting three groups of great contrast: an operatic group, a group of modern art songs, and a group of songs from the southland. She sang a negro spiritual by Burleigh, instead of the first number by Red-dick indicated on the program. Her voice is lovely in quality, remarkably true in intonation and her diction is a delight. She added to the program after the group of art songs "The House That Jack Built," by Sidney Homer and after the group of negro songs another spiritual by Burleigh.

Since the days of the Shepherd King the harp has lent itself in grateful measure to accompaniments of all kinds. However, David had no such instrument with which to soothe Saul as the artistic instrument produced today by Lyon & Healy.

Such a harp was brought before the audience last night and in the hands of Miss O'Connor it almost lost its quality as an instrument of accompaniment and seemed to lay modest claim to solo rights. As a solo instrument the harp makes its appeal thru its novelty, a tender tone and a more ethereal quality but never failing to show its lack of breadth, its inadequacy to strong emotion and its inability to give majesty to interpretation. But when one says "harp" one must reckon with Miss O'Connor, who is master of all the good points of her instrument and who carefully conceals its frailties. Her playing is marked by much temperance, clean tone phrasing, accurate pedaling and unusual variety of tone.

To the numbers chosen for the program she added three transcriptions: "Old Black Joe," by Rogers; "Mighty Lak' a Rose," by Nevin, and "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms," Matthews.

Miss Brinkman appeared in the double role of accompanist and soloist. The support that she gave Miss Reed was at all times satisfying. In her solo numbers she gave a fine account of her attainments. She was enthusiastically recalled and played a Nocturne in F. Major, by Chopin.

That the artists' course has auspiciously begun was evident by the appreciation of the audience during the evening and by the comments heard afterward.

THIS CITY UNIQUE IN HOSPITAL RECORD

Jacksonville Only City in State Outside Chicago With Two Hospitals on List Approved By American College of Surgeons.

Mention was made recently that Passavant and Our Savior's hospitals of this city are both on the approved list issued by the American College of Surgeons. This is an unusual distinction when it is known that no other city in Illinois outside Chicago has more than one such hospital.

Further, there are a number of cities in the state much larger than Jacksonville without one hospital entitled to a place in this honor list. Bloomington, Decatur, Springfield and Quincy, for example, are not accorded this honor.

The official list is as follows: Chicago, 37; Jacksonville 2; the following cities one each: Evans-ton, Hinsdale, Pana, Danville, Moline, Olney, Rockford, Mar-shyboro, Blue Island, Freeport, Peoria, Joliet, East St. Louis, Cairo, LaSalle.

The official notice of the American College of Surgeons on this subject was brought to the attention of the Journal by Dr. J. W. Hairgrove at the suggestion of Dr. Franklin H. Martin, director of the American College of Surgeons. Under a Boston date line it reads as follows:

"The institutions listed proved that they are giving the best of scientific care to their patients," declared Dr. Franklin H. Martin, Director-General of the American College of Surgeons. "Aided by one of the great educational foundations, we have carried on actual visits to hospitals, made by trained medical men who see working conditions as they are. For the first time this year we have surveyed hospitals of 50 bed capacity and up. These institutions as well as the larger hospitals show a marked improvement the country over and places Illinois in the fore-front of states who are active in medical progress."

Illinois is to be congratulated on its splendid showing and on the medical men, hospital superintendents, and trustees who have made this advance possible."

COUNTY BOARD MAY RESCIND ACTION

Will Consider Cancelling Proposal for Special Tax In Support of Oak Lawn Sanatorium.

Members of the county board are to meet this afternoon to consider the matter of withdrawing the proposal to levy a one mill tax for the support of the tuberculosis sanatorium. Several weeks ago the commissioners decided to submit this question to the people at the November election. The levying of a one mill tax would mean the raising of about $17,000 for the support of the sanatorium.

The commissioners took this action because of their experience that sufficient money cannot be taken from the regular county fund to properly maintain the sanatorium.

Saturday representatives of the County Federation of Clubs adopted a resolution asking that the question be not submitted. It is possible, therefore, that the commissioners will take the action suggested by the club.

The previous action was based upon the request of the tuberculosis board and because of the board's knowledge that funds available from the regular county taxes were not sufficient for the maintenance of the institution.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH HOMECOMING

Annual Events was Held Sunday—Large Number of Members in Attendance an Interesting Program Given.

Carrying out its custom, the First Baptist church held its annual home coming on Sunday. Announcement had been made and invitations extended to members and friends of the church and congregation, and to the Baptist students of the city, and the ideal weather permitted a good crowd to be in attendance.

The day's program began with the regular Sunday school service at 9:30 followed by a splendid sermon, being the third of a series of sermons on "Stewardships" delivered by the pastor, Rev. A. P. Howells.

Immediately following the sermon, the ladies proceeded to unpack their baskets, and spread the tables in the spacious dining room, and ere long every body was invited to sit down together and enjoy a real big family dinner. No need to try to mention the many different varieties of meats, salads, fruits, pies, cakes, etc., but suffice it to say, there was an abundance and plenty left, after remembering some of our number who because of illness were not permitted to be present.

After the dinner hour, the program began by singing by the congregation. "It's a good thing to be a Christian," with Miss Carrie B. Spires at the piano and L. B. Turner as chorister. Then we heard from a member of the Intermediate B. Y. P. U. Miss Loraine Torrey, on the topic, "The Modern Ruth" and it was well worth the while for it was most ably handled.

The Senior B. Y. P. U. was represented by Clarence Wilson, his topic was "Trouble of Moses in Modern Days" and was ably presented, with a real practical application of the teachings of Moses to present day needs.

Misses Margaret and Mildred Harcock of the I. W. C. rendered a beautiful musical number with trombone and cornet which was very much appreciated.

Mrs. Ogden gave some short sketches on noted women of Bible records, and called attention to the fact that all good and noble women were not gone into to great beyond, but insisted we have many noble mothers and grandmothers today.

R. L. Dumas speaking for the men of the church pointed to a few Bible characters as high examples for us to follow if we would do the most for the cause of the church.

At this point in the program, Mrs. E. J. Huff of Virginia, formerly one of our most efficient teachers in the Sunday school, and who had come to enjoy the day with us, was called to the platform and gave us a most interesting talk, renewing again her former acquaintances, and declaring her faith in our church as a factor for good in the community.

A. A. Curry and family of Pisgah were present, and Mr. Curry, as moderator of the Morgan-Scott Baptist association was called upon, and addressed himself to the younger people of the church, and gave us a much helpful advice.

Prof. G. R. Poage of the Illinois college had for his subject, "Guard the Flame," and dwelt upon the spiritual life and activities of the church, and stressed the importance of eliminating non-essentials and holding fast to the doctrinal principals, pure and unadulterated.

The pastor, Rev. A. P. Howells with a few well selected remarks on the subject "Through the Telescope" pointed the way to the great beyond, the home across the river, the home not made with hands, and the great home coming of the redeemed.

Rev. Howells has shown himself to be a very efficient pastor, keenly alive to present day needs and kindly sympathetic in his ministrations of church affairs. The program closed with a song, and a prayer was offered by Deacon T. O. Hardesty.

The program was planned by a committee composed of Charles H. Story, Carl H. Weber, and Miss Carrie B. Spires, while Mrs. W. T. Spires had charge of the arrangements for the dinner. Charles H. Story acted as toastmaster for the after dinner program.

It was a great day in the church with communications from non-resident members, old familiar faces again home for the day, memories brought to mind of other days, and a general old fashioned spirit present that really made the occasion a great family reunion.

One very interesting letter received and read by the pastor was from Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fox, of Indianapolis, Ind., who at one time were very active members of the church, and expressed a desire to be with us at this annual home coming, and enclosed a very generous check to be applied to the Sunday school building fund.

We were reminded that some of our numbers were on beds of affliction and not able to be present, but greetings were sent them from the meeting with prayers for their recovery.

We shall look forward with interest to the coming of this day next year.

At the prayer service next Wednesday evening, reports from the Illinois state Baptist convention will be given by the delegates that were in attendance at this annual meeting at Centralia last week.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our appreciation and thanks to the many friends who so kindly assisted us at the time of our recent bereavement, also for the beautiful flowers.

FIRST PICTURE AT HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT

"Bob Hampton From Placer" Is the Offering—Large Audience Expected to See First Picture.

"Bob Hampton From Placer," is the picture to be shown at the High school this evening as the first of the series of films to be given there this winter. A large audience is expected of both students and townspeople and it is hoped that the pictures may prove as great success as was the case last year.

In selecting the pictures for the year the High school authorities have used the best possible judgment in bringing the right kind of pictures here for use in an educational institution. However, the only means of judging the merit of a picture is by the short descriptive paragraph which appears in the catalog.

Even those who select the picture know the story of the book or play it is difficult to know just what the screen version of which everyone may not approve but incidents of this kind are unavoidable in making out a program of pictures.

The High school is not giving these pictures shows for the purpose of making money. The price of admission is nominal, being ten cents for all. The only aim of the managers of the picture performances at the school is to pay out for the project and realize a small additional amount with which to finance the showing of films in the class rooms for educational purposes.

CENTRE COLLEGE SHOWS NEW PLAY

NEW YORK Oct. 23.—Football experts of the east were still studying today the puzzling look step shift employed by the Dougherty eleven from Centre College which lost to Harvard at Cambridge Saturday 24 to 10. Should it be taken up and employed widely critics are wondering how the rules will be affected by such shifts.

As used by the Southerners Saturday it was in conformity with established regulations including the newly clarified rule on shift plays which has been made sufficiently clear by the rules committee of the intercollegiate football association to be universally interpreted to prevent all but one man on an attacking team being in motion before the ball is passed.

Those who saw the Harvard-Centre game know that the lock step shift is more conservative than the more common shifts are.

The one objection raised against the lock step shift being the time it requires particularly when the quarterback adds an extra figure to his signals and the whole team "fronts" and "right abouts" with the precision of a troop of circus Zouaves. Now that the play has been shown it probably will be less effective when used again.

KNUTE ROCKNE LOOKS INTO FUTURE

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 23.—Knute Rockne, University of Notre Dame football mentor, would make good as a theatrical producer, football fans here declare.

Rockne gave the spectators at the Notre Dame-DePauw game last Saturday some entertainment from the kickoff until the final play. He filled in the intermission between halves with a burlesque entitled "Football in 1930." The opposing teams were the cake eaters dressed in clown suits and the tea hounds attired in frock coats, derby hats, athletic underwear, pink shoulder pads and striped hose. A slap on the wrist was the equivalent of a diving tackle.

REDS AND BROWNS RECEIVE THEIR CHECKS

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Checks totaling $37,096.46 representing the amount awarded to the members of the Cincinnati National and St. Louis American League baseball clubs for finishing the pennant race in second place, were sent out today by baseball Commissioner Landis. Each club was given $18,548.23 representing one half of the sixty percent balance after the world's series contenders had paid and the 15 percent allowed the commissioner's office had been deducted. The St. Louis club's share was split into 28 shares, 19 of the players receiving $622.44 each and nine receiving $662.43.

The Cincinnati Club's share was divided into 25 full shares of $713.41 and a twenty sixth share was split into four parts in amounts ranging from $71.30 to $427.78.

SAVED HER LIFE

What This Woman Says is of Vital Importance to You

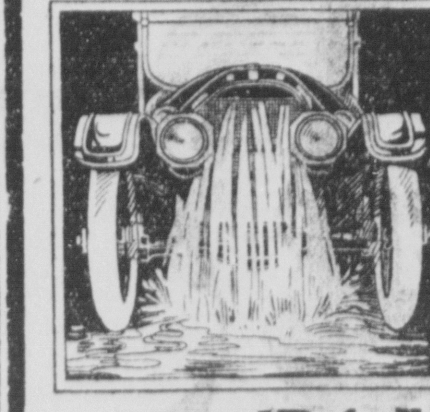

Bloomington, Ill.—"I know I would not be here today if it were not for Dr. Pierce's medicines, for they once saved my life. During my first expectant period I had a complete breakdown in health. From the first month on, my health was very bad, and I got so weak I could not do any work. My whole body would be covered with a sort of clammy perspiration that would turn my clothes yellow as saffron. My breath was short and it was hard for me to breathe at times. I thought I would never get well as I had doctored for several months without relief. At last I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery, alternately, and just four bottles so completely restored my health that I was able to do all my own work. I am so grateful for the help these medicines gave me that I am always glad to recommend them."—Mrs. Allie Dunegan, 625 1/2 No. Main St.

TRADING IN WHEAT AT LOWER PRICES

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Most trading in wheat today was at lower prices, but the December delivery scored a moderate advance on account of the covering shorts.
Bearish factors were an unexpected increase of the United States visible supply total lower quotations at Liverpool and reports that railroads east of Buffalo were turning more cars.
The market closed unsettled at 1c decline to 1 1/2c advance, with December $1.11 1/2 to $1.11 3/4 and May $1.11 1/2. Corn finished unchanged to 1c higher; oats off 1c to 1 1/2c, and provisions unchanged to 2 1/2c up.

With trade in December delivery of wheat becoming smaller and smaller, the outstanding shorts became nervous regarding that month, and showed a disposition to disregard the course of the market taken as a whole.
December, too, even more

THE JOSEPHINE MILLIGAN SCHOOL

The Josephine Milligan school will soon be open in its new and more permanent location on Jordan street. This location puts the school near the center of the city so it can be within the reach of all. There is also the advantage of its being near the Senior and Junior High schools and is to be heated from the boiler house which is situated north of Jordan street across the Junior high.

The new plant consists of a utility center and a regular school building. The utility center contains the office, laboratories and shower baths for both boys and girls, a large dining room and a suite of nurse and clinic offices.
The building has been completely refinished and makes a clean and healthy appearance both outside and in.

The school proper is connected to the utility center on the north.
It is divided into two rooms and is so arranged that classes will have the largest freedom in all school and health work. This building has been repainted inside and out and is provided with controlled heat so that temperatures may be kept at the best possible points for the health of the pupils.

The school stands for the evolved principle of giving additional opportunities to pupils who temporarily are in poor health and who need more personal freedom, individual nurse and medical attention as well as an opportunity to recover in a situation where health is placed first.

Pupils attending this school will be given special attention as to food and recreation as well as to rest and intellectual training.
Pupils recovering from illness will be given the opportunity of attending the school for a short period so that they may not lose their schooling so long. When fully in shape they will be returned to the regular school where they should regularly attend.

The school clinic will be directly in charge of Dr. Brokaw, who will associate other physicians and dentists with him for examination purposes. Cases will be properly referred to the family physicians who are asked to cooperate with the school in order that the health work of the community may be of the maximum service.

The pupils attending the school will be served a noon day meal from the high school cafeteria.
Other lunches will be served as the pupils' needs direct.

It is hoped to have a public inspection opening soon. In a short time the school will be ready to run and applications will be received from parents who desire to give their children the benefit of this wonderful opportunity.

FARM BUREAU
NOTES

Peach Leaf Curl

Peach Leaf curl was unusually abundant the past season due in part to abnormal weather conditions. In some cases the presence of the leaf curl organism was accounted for either by the absence of a dormant spray, or because the dormant spray was applied after peach buds began to swell. The spores of the fungus live over the winter on the twigs and are easily killed by winter strength lime sulfur. It is essential, however, to make such an application before there is any activity on the part of the tree inasmuch as the development of the disease starts as soon as the buds begin to swell. From this has resulted the recommendation to spray peach trees in late fall since unfavorable weather conditions often prevent early spring sprays until too late. Use commercial concentrated lime-sulfur diluted 1 to 8, or dry lime sulfur 15 pounds in 50 gallons of water. Oil sprays are not effective in the control of leaf curl.

Weevil in Wheat

The Farm Bureau office has received numerous complaints of weevil in wheat. There is no better way of combatting this pest than fumigating by carbon bisulphide. A fumigation grade can be obtained from other larger drug houses at a much lower price than the refined product. This is just as effective for fumigation purposes as the more expensive highly refined product.

gible to compete. In all, over 100

Smart Weed Borer Gives Scare

"The Advisers attention was called to injury of a certain area of a corn field in the northeastern part of the county, the owner fearing that the injury was the work of the European corn-borer.
The Adviser spent considerable time looking over the area, carefully collected some specimen to the State Entomologist. There was no evidence, either from the character of the injury nor from the appearance of the insects to show that the European corn-borer was present. Inasmuch as the smart weeds in the corn field plainly showed evidence of the work of the borer it is likely that the injury done to the corn was that of the smart weed borer."
W. R. Eastman, Pulaski County.

Protect the Quail

"We are appealing to the farmers to protect the quail in order that we may more effectively control the chinch bugs that are apparently present over the entire county. We have observed chinch bugs flying in all parts of the county and in a number of cases is infested with a goodly number of these insects." F. E. Longmire, Grundy, Co.
